The last monthly stag of the Paragon Club, which was held the other evening at their rooms, 229 Manhattan avenue, Greenpoint, proved a very pleasant affair. The boxing was exceptionally interesting, as none but club members took partan it and no one was trying to snock the top of some other fellow's head off.

In addition to the boxing they had club awinging, singing, recitations, banjo and violin playing. The officers of the Club are: Eucene Southerland, President; E. Birdseil, Vice-President; William Erington, Treasurer; burt Baker, Secretary; John Hosier, Financial Secretary.

Tommy Kelly, the Harlem Spider, and his backer called at the Police Gazette office on Tuesday and took up the $500 they had deposited to make a match with Avery, of Brooklyn, who they are satisfied is afraid to fight.

But nobody had eyes for any one bes the pretty young girl in the gray walkat she crept shyly to Mr. D'Eresby's outstretched arm looked infinitely charming.

T' was the romantic truth. Mr. D'Eresby had lost his heart hopelessly among the arabesques and pencil; and flesigned by Mary Lesile's pencil; and she had scarcely finished the patterns she had scarcely finished Mr. D'Eresby among the arabesques and labyrinths asked her to come and live in it. Tom had been her only confident -- a strange one, yet not unappreciative.

"I don't deserve to be so happy, as she told him.
"Yes. you do," said Tom, hunging her like a young bear. "My eyes! what will Joe say when she hears it?"
